

CDGcommerce Announces Free Online Payment Gateway Program

Merchants no longer have to pay gateway and gateway per transaction fees for online payment processing.

Chesapeake, VA (PRWEB) August 22, 2007 – CDGcommerce, a leading Internet merchant credit card processor, announced today the release of its free online payment gateway program, powered by the Quantum Payment Gateway. The new program relieves merchants accepting credit cards online of all gateway and gateway per transaction fees, which can add up to thousands of dollars in monthly savings.

The free online payment gateway program is available to all CDGcommerce customers. According to Chris West, CEO of CDGcommerce, “Merchants now have the ability to cut out an entire layer of cost from their credit card transaction processing including no gateway setup fees, no gateway monthly fees, and no gateway per transaction fees.” Additionally, “Merchants also receive substantial benefits from the unique technologies provided by the Quantum Payment Gateway.”

Technologies include built-in CardAuthenticate™ cardholder authentication for Verified by Visa & MasterCard SecureCode, imbedded automated phone order verification capabilities through DialVerify™ and a host of other advanced features. “CDGcommerce’s new gateway is the most sophisticated state-of-the-art online payment gateway in the industry with features not found on any other platform including free built-in Verified by Visa & MasterCard SecureCode at no additional cost to merchants,” said West.

New features include an automated recurring billing system and a pre-stored customer vault mode to allow customers to be re-billed for varying amounts at any time via an API or through manual requests. West said, “The CDGcommerce free online payment gateway for merchants represents a historic first in the payment processing industry. No other merchant processor has ever released a free Internet payment gateway program to their entire merchant base.”

“Our goal with this initiative was not just to provide our merchants and resellers with a huge cost savings,” said West. “We also wanted them to have the very best technology on the planet and I feel that we have achieved both of these goals with the release of this exciting new credit card payment gateway program.”
